TWO NEW STARTERS AS HOW PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

Manchester based HOW Planning is heading towards the end of the year on a positive note having taken on two new members of staff and identifying further opportunities for graduates and young planners to join the team.

Chris Peacock, 29, who initially worked at HOW when he left university, has returned to join the environmental team, having gained 3 years technical experience at a multidisciplinary consultancy. His position as a Senior Environmental Consultant helps to further enhance this area of the business which is experiencing a growing demand.

HOW is also boosted by the arrival of Dan Brown, 27 from Drivers Jonas Deloitte. As a Senior Planner, Dan will bring his extensive retail experience gained working on behalf of clients including Asda and Tesco, to the team and will be working on HOW's food and non food retail clients including Waitrose, Marks & Spencer and B&Q.

Says Gary Halman, Partner at HOW Planning: "We've been able to make two very significant appointments with Chris and Dan as they both bring extensive experience and expertise to the team. The latter part of the year has been very positive with a number of major new clients joining HOW. As such we are looking to create more opportunities for graduates and young planners to join the team so we can prepare for a busy start to the new year."

In addition to the new appointments HOW has also announced an internal move with graduate planner Amy James promoted to Planner.
